Park Program Will Open On June 17

The annual summer recreation program sponsored by the Mokena Park District will begin June 17 and end Aug. 9, it was decided by the commissioners at their regular meeting last Thursday night in the Mokena Village Hall.

Sarah Sippel will be in charge of the program that will include many activities, including dodgeball, volleyball, baseball, softball, soccer, touch football, horseshoes, bean bags, badminton and miniature golf.

The program is designed for youngsters of grade school age, 6 to 14 and will be held daily, except Saturdays and Sundays, at the park.

The board discussed lights for the tennis court. It has been told that four poles, each bearing a cluster of lights, would be necessary. The lights would be placed at the ends of the court. The board will get an estimate of the cost of buying and installing the lights and then discuss the matter further.

Ray Toeppen, who was present at the meeting as head of the baseball interests of the community, reported that 350 youngsters would be playing baseball at Mokena this year. There are four diamonds at the park and one at Willowcrest School that will be used. There are several leagues.

Moss Succeeds Brown As Head Of L-W Board

During the special meeting of the Lincoln-Way High School board incumbents, Joseph Gregg of Manhattan, and Mrs. Beatrice Link of Lincoln Estates, were officially declared elected for new three year terms.

The board then elected Earl Moss of New Lenox as president, Dr. Lowell Webb, vice president; and Mrs. Beatrice Link to her second term as secretary.

This policy being established several years ago in order to give experience to all board members and to enable the president to concentrate his efforts more effectively over a shorter period.

Board meetings will be scheduled on the second

Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. in the high school office, with the fourth Thursday reserved for adjourned meetings.

Open Letter from the HIRSCHS'

Dear friends,

Occasionally we overhear, "All these funeral flowers, what a waste!" To show love and respect for the memory of any individual is never a waste but rather a kind deed that bolsters the spirits of a heartbroken family. We never think of a beautiful centerpiece for a dinner party a waste.

Flowers, like funerals, are for the living and any compassionate concern that one individual shows to another is a commendable act.

Respectfully,

Social Sec. Makes New Provisions

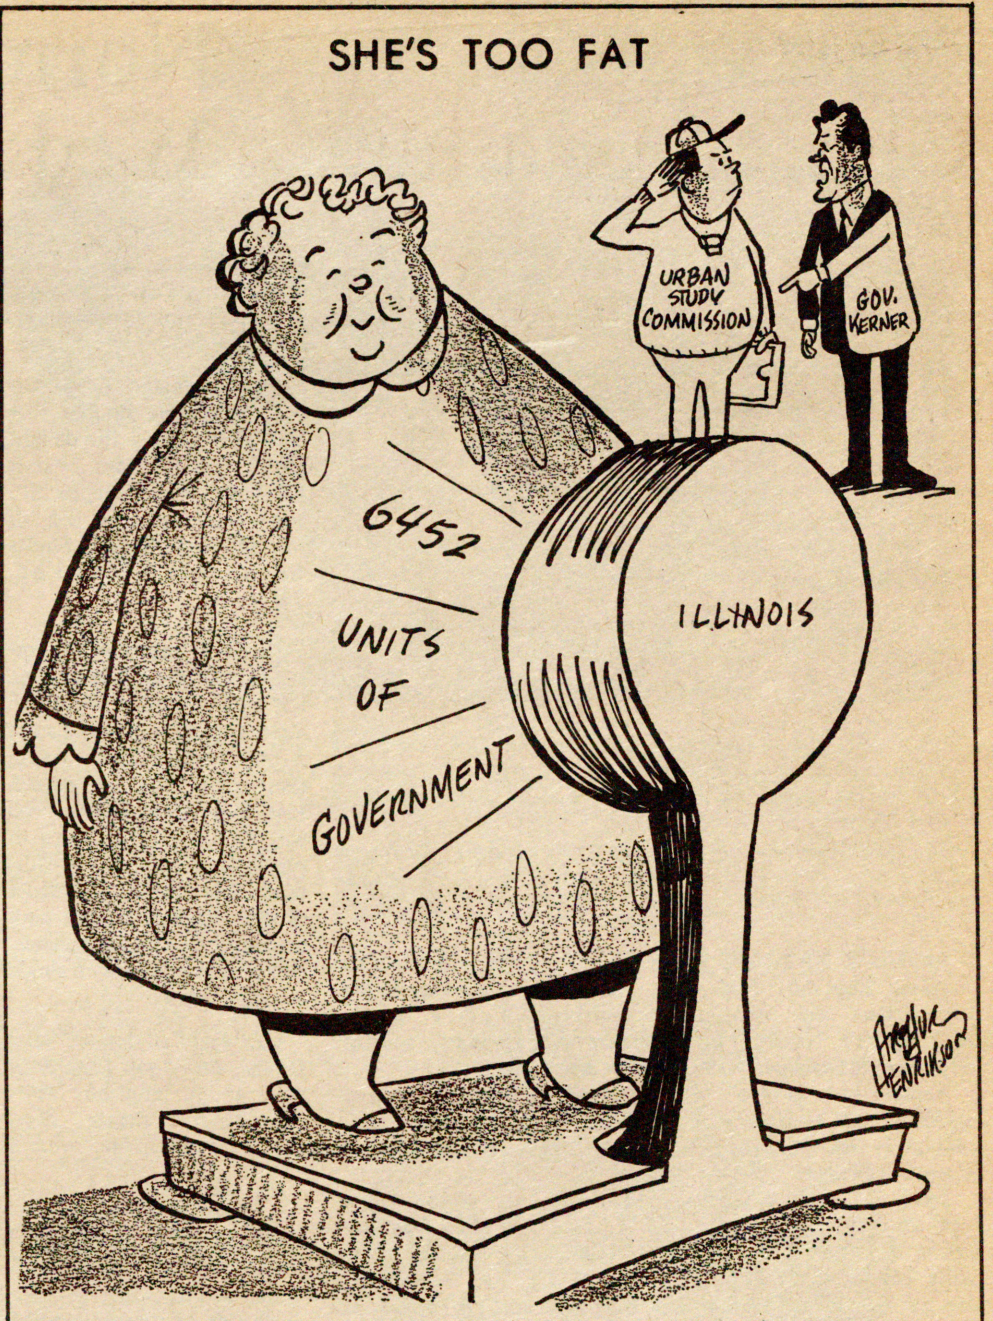

One of the new provisions of the Social Security Act now provides special disability insurance protection for a person under age 31. In order to qualify, a person now needs credits for only half the time between age 21 and the time he becomes unable to work. If he is under 24 years of age and has a severe disability and this condition lasted at least one year or is expected to last one year, he needs six quarters of work to be eligible for disability benefits. If he became disabled at age 30, he would need four years of work instead of the usual five to qualify under the new provisions.

For example: John Z was born 7/15/41. He graduated from college in 1962 and accepted a job at a manufacturing plant. He was making about $5600 a year. By the time he was 25, he was married and had 2 children. His salary had increased to $7800 a year. Everything had a rosy outlook until June 30th before his birthday.

He was driving home from work and failed to hear the train whistle at an unprotected crossing. His car was hit by the oncoming train and as a result he suffered severe back injuries, multiple fractures and many lacerations.

When he was well enough to come home from the hospital, the doctor told him he would not be able to work for a long time. John had heard about disability benefits under social security and so he inquired. However, he found that he had not worked long enough.

On Jan. 2, 1968 there was a change. John heard of this change and called at his Social Security Office again. He found that he only needed to have worked 2 1/2 years. He has filed his application for himself and children and his wife has filed for herself. His earnings averaged $6600; so he will receive $189.90. His wife and children will receive $205.70. This will make a total of $395.60 for the family.

Five Candidates For Park Board

Frankfort voters will go to the polls a week from Saturday -- May 11 -- to ballot on a proposal to establish a park district. At the same time they also will vote on candidates for park commissioners.

Five commissioners are to be elected. There are five candidates: Donald Stupp, Janet (Mrs. Raymond) Page, Dr. Merrill Otto, David Zechlin and Wilbur Hossbach.

The proposed district does not include Lincoln Estates. Hickory Creek is the north boundary and Laraway Rd. the south, west of U.S. 45 and Center Rd. On U.S. 30 the proposed district runs west to Wolf Rd. where it goes south about a quarter mile, then east about a half mile and then south to Laraway Rd. East of U.S. 45 the north boundary is St. Francis Rd. approximately half a section wide. It holds this line south to a point about half a mile south of U.S. 30, thence east to about half a mile east of Pfeiffer Rd. where it goes south for approximately a half mile and then back to Pfeiffer Rd.; south to Steger Rd. thence west about half a mile, north a half and then west to Center Rd. where it joins the western part of the proposed district.

The park program at Frankfort is popular with the public, according to all indications. It has been customary to designate several days of each year as "work days" at the park. Men, women and boys and girls turn out on these occasions on a voluntary basis.

Last Sunday was such a "work day", and Village Trustee Gerald Francis, who is park chairman, was gratified with the turnout of helpers and the work accomplished.

"Everyone who turned out is deserving of a big 'Thank You,'" he said, "and in behalf of the village board and those interested in the maintenance of the park, I want to say it."

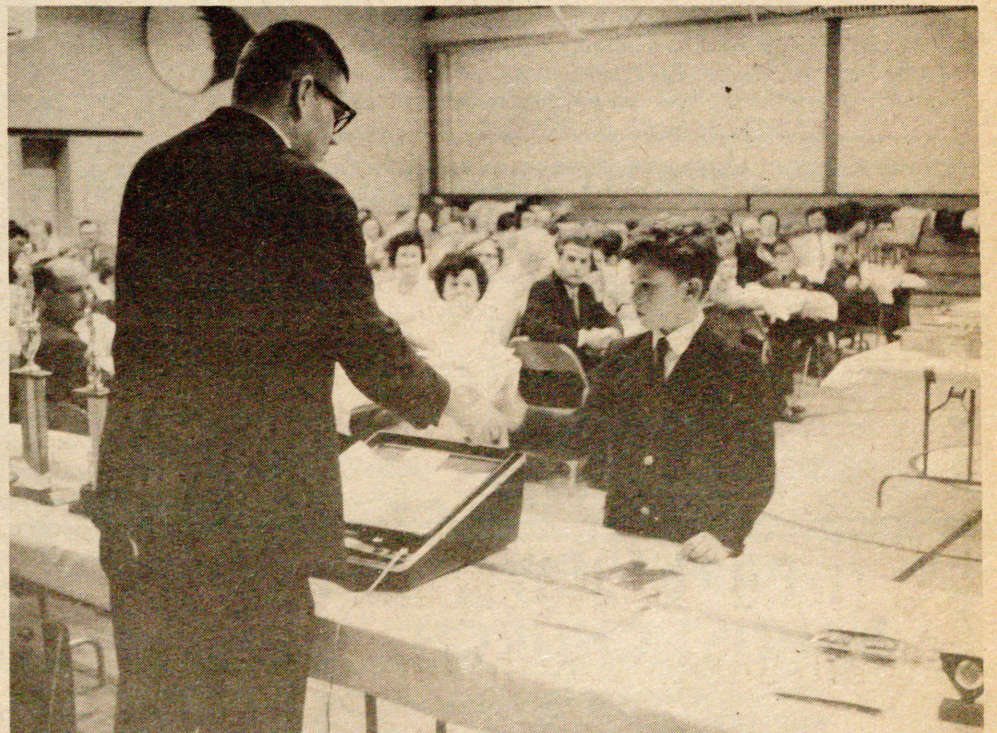

The buildings housing toilet facilities were cleaned inside and painted outside. Picnic tables were painted; the grounds cleared of litter; the ball diamonds cleaned. Trees were trimmed and the ground around them spaded. It was a busy day.

THE MIDWEST HIGH RISERS, a club made up of boys in the auto mechanics class at Lincoln-Way High School and boys interested in autos, was organized and started by Mel Oard, auto shop teacher and assisted by Larry Beddow science teacher, and Bill Marco, of the driver education department.

Any boy over age 15, interested in the club, and living in the Lincoln-Way area can join. Meetings are held every other Wednesday night in the school auto shop at 7:00 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the pink carnation decorated altar dressed in a white satin A-line brocade street length dress and coat ensemble. Her four tiered blusher veil was attached to a crown of pearls and aurora boreallis beads. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds with streamers. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Her maid of honor, Miss Donna Davis of Frankfort, wore a light grey and white street-length sheath dress and coat ensemble, with a yellow wedding ring hat with a single tier veil. She wore a corsage of white carnations with yellow rosebuds.

Horse Show Proceeds To Roy Newton Fund

A horse show is to be given Sunday, May 12, at the Haymac Farm, 187th St., Mokena. Net proceeds will go to the Roy Newton Fund.

Newton, the Mokena police chief, who underwent brain surgery at Silver Cross hospital, has been a patient there since March 18. His wife reports that his condition has improved and he has been moved from the intensive care section to Room 272. He can now receive cards.

The horse show will be a combined Western and English affair, with classes for Arabian horses to be presented with a riding exhibition by Neil Mannebach who controls his mounts thru various gaits and maneuvers solely by knee and leg pressure.

There will be many classes in the Western and English divisions, it was explained, and anyone owning a horse is eligible to enter the show. Anyone having folding chairs or bleachers to lend, or wishes a show bill, may call Mrs. Kenneth McCarty, 479-9228. The McCartys and Bill Hays own Haymac Farm.

The show is to begin at 12 noon. Donations for adults will be $1, for children it will be 25 cents. There is a covered arena so the show will go on, rain or shine. One may get lunch and snacks at a stand on the grounds.

Recent approval of $10.5-million bond issue and a 3-cent increase in the building fund tax rate by voters of Will, Grundy and portions of Kendall counties is getting action from the Junior College Board of District 525.

The board is pushing now to get preliminaries out of the way so construction of the campus can begin. With the state paying 75 per cent of the construction cost the board is talking of an expenditure of around $32-million and for that money it hopes to get a fine set of buildings that will meet the educational and cultural needs of all the adults of the area.

The new campus will be built in Troy Township, not too far from I-55. The east west FAI-80 connects with I-55 a couple of miles or so south of West Jefferson St., or U.S. 52. This will put the campus in easy access for residents of the east and west ends of the district and it should be convenient for the north and south stretches as well as residents of Joliet.

The board points out that for many decades Joliet Junior College -- now embraced in the new junior college district -- has offered both transfer and technical programs, in both day and evening classes.

On the new campus it plans to expand these offerings to provide training in occupational areas not heretofore include. Indeed, permission already is being sought from the Illinois State Junior College board for establishing a curriculum in law enforcement for training police officers. Authorization also is sought for broadening the agriculture - horticulture program. Other vocational curricula are being planned, including nurses training and dental hygiene.

Further in the offing are the training of library assistants, and a food technology program which includes restaurant management and the training of chefs. Some of the technical programs will also be scheduled for expansion, such as engineering technology and chemical technology. Similarly, there will be increased offerings in the transfer program.

The board looks to a bright future for the college district.

HELEN ANN GULLICKSEN -- Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gullicksen, 217 Hickory St., New Lenox, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen Ann, to Gary Everett Mings, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mings, Rt. 1, Decatur, Ill.

Gary is a graduate of Warrensburg High School and will also graduate in May from Eastern Illinois University.

The wedding is set for June 8, at 8:00 p.m. in the New Lenox Methodist Church, with Rev. Herbert George officiating.

Invitations have been issued, but all relatives and friends are invited to attend the wedding and reception, which will be held following the wedding in the fellowship hall of the church.

The couple plan to teach in the Camp Point, Ill. school system this fall. (Behnke photo)

JAYNE LYNN WHEELER -- Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wheeler, Frankfort, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Jayne Lynn, to Richard Arthur Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fitzgerald, 225 Park Ave., Manhattan.

Jayne is a graduate of Lincoln Way High School and is employed as a legal secretary to States Atty. George Sangmeister in Frankfort.

Richard is also a graduate of Lincoln - Way and is a student at Lewis College, Lockport, where he is majoring in accounting. He is presently employed by Grumley, Dicke, Thornton, & Clark, CPA firm, Joliet.

Correct Passing Is Important Maneuver

A simple miscalculation in a common traffic maneuver--passing--can result in trouble for you, the car you're passing and oncoming traffic, warns the Chicago Motor Club - AAA.

Constant attention to your driving can help avoid a crisis situation, however.

In passing, keep foremost in your mind that your car and the vehicle you wish to pass will travel a considerable distance before you can make your maneuver and return to your proper lane.

If you are driving 50 miles an hour, for example, and wish to pass a car traveling 40 miles an hour, your car will travel 1,200 feet -- nearly a quarter mile -- before the passing maneuver can be completed.

The Chicago Motor Club cites this example of how the "thinking driver" might go about making a passing maneuver:

As he approaches the vehicle ahead he leaves enough room between it and his car so he can determine when there is a safe interval for passing.

He checks road conditions in front and rear, using the rearview mirror, side mirror and an "over-the-shoulder" glance to be sure what cars around him are doing.

Before swinging into the passing lane he indicates his intention to change lanes with his turn signal and picks up speed. During the day he may tap his horn to tell the driver ahead he wishes to pass. At night he may flick his lights.

The thinking driver will wait for the proper time to pass and when it comes will make his maneuver quickly. When far enough beyond the car so he can see it in his rearview mirror, he will signal his lane change and pull back into the proper lane without slowing down.

The passing speed will be about 10 miles an hour faster than the vehicle to be passed. This permits the overtaking vehicle to react under controlled circumstances in case the other vehicle swerves or turns.

Thinking drivers realize it is poor judgment, however, to try to pass cars traveling at or above posted speed limits, or at the same average speed as their own vehicles.

New Ballots Readied For Voting Machines

Will County Clerk, Clara Hartley Woodard (R), and Jack Gerbel IBM Corporations Voting Systems Representative, met last week to complete work on the ballots to be used on the new voting machines in the June 11 primary election.

The IBM Votomatic System uses a machine card which is inserted into a compact assembly. The assembly is constructed so the pages which list the candidates and offices are staggered. A voter uses a metal stylus to punch the voting card through an aperture which appears next to the candidates name. When a voter is finished, he removes the card and places it in an envelope on which write-ins may be entered. The envelope is then sealed and dropped into the ballot box.

The June primary will be the first time a voting machine has been used in Will County, and Mrs. Woodard has been conducting special classes for election judges and officials as well as making provision for demonstrator models to be placed in various County banks, shopping centers and public places. Each polling place will have a demonstrator so anyone wishing special instruction may receive it before voting.

"The demonstration machines will have fictitious names on them," Mrs. Woodard said. "Once learned, the technique is simple; and voters should have no trouble adjusting to the new system."

The Votomatic System has been used in Peoria, Springfield, Rockford, Peoria County, Winnebago County, Champaign County and Lake County with good results. The major advantage of the IBM System has been its accuracy, speed and inexpensive storage cost.

When the polls close, the sealed ballot boxes are taken to a central counting station where the ballots are removed and fed through a computer which tabulates election returns and the official canvass. Final returns are provided in a few hours and precinct returns within minutes and at intervals during the count.

"Thruout the past, our customers have learned that they can rely on the IBM Corporation to help them in all phases of planning and implementing new projects," Mr. Gerbel said. "We will co-ordinate with the County in every way to help institute the system."

Old Oak; the Older New Golf Course

Located in the far southwest Chicago - land area at 143rd and Parker Road, is probably the oldest "new" course in the middle west, Old Oak. This 18-hole layout was originally built in the 1920's and was known by the name of Kinsman Golf Club for many years.

In the years after World War II, the clubhouse was totally destroyed by fire and the course left to nature.

In February, 1964, the course was purchased by Roy Clark, a member of Beverly Country Club. He and the greens superintendent, Al Lagman, formerly of Kankakee Country Club, proceeded to burn and carve, once again, a golf course.

In August of the same year, the course was sold and a continuing program of improvements was initiated. The purchasers, including Frank Aldridge Sr., of Old Orchard Country Club, were familiar with the likes and dislikes of the modern semi-private golfer.

During the 1967 season, many of the projects started earlier saw their completion.

Old Oak today is a very enjoyable 6,200 yard, 18-hole course with many fairways surrounded by trees and excellent greens.

Manager Bill Haskell and assistant manager, Carroll Collins, are on hand seven days a week to help you enjoy your game.

Reservations for Old Oak may be obtained by calling (312) 349-3344.

Senior Citizens Get Ready For Show

Senior Citizens month activities reported for last year indicate that this observance in May has become one of the top non-commercial observances in the country in the space of eight years.

Harold Whiteside, director of the Senior Services Center for Will County, reported this from a publication about Senior Citizens month issued by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The President has issued a proclamation each year naming May as Senior Citizens month. This is followed in the states by the governors' proclamation. These, in turn, are followed by proclamations of mayors and other public officials.

Senior citizens organizations-mostly for the purpose of having fun - have mushroomed all over the country. In some areas they have formed federations to help get action toward some of their needs.

Activities last year ranged from a concert conducted by Leopold Stokowski and addressed by Mrs. Lyndon Johnson in Carnegie Hall to special awards events, job drives, exhibits, dances, tournaments and hobby shows. Special displays and entertainment features are staged. Many senior organizations have their own singing, musical and entertainment groups. Several of them have sale days for their craftwork and white elephants.

The Senior Citizens Hobby Show sponsored by the Will Council of Community Service Organizations, has been the major event in Will County in past years. This year is will be combined with a Senior Citizens Sesquicentennial sponsored by the 23 senior citizen organizations of the county, the Will County Historical Society and the Mokena Woman's Club. Both the hobby show and the sesquicentennial will be at the Riverside Senior Services Center in Joliet, May 17 - 19. More than 125 displays are expected at the hobby show, and the senior groups are reporting all sorts of relics and antiques for the sesquicentennial.

Whiteside and the committees working on the various events for Senior Citizens Month expressed the hope that the mayors of the towns in Will County will follow the Joliet mayor in proclaiming Senior Citizens month.

Mrs. Margaret Semmler of Mokena, Mrs. Ada Lambrecht of Frankfort, and Mrs. Ann Rogers, editor of the Tinley Park Times are members.

Seeks Improvement In Driver Licensing

Matthew C. Sielski, vice president for traffic safety of the Chicago Motor Club, today was elected chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Driver Licensing named by Secretary of State Paul Powell to conduct a thorough study of the state's Driver License Law and its administration.

Dr. A. E. Florio, professor of safety education and program director of safety and driver education at the University of Illinois, was chosen vice chairman, and George D. Sibons, assistant supervisor of the Drivers License Division in Mr. Powell's office, was named secretary.

Soil Stewardship Week Observed May 19-26

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligations to God as stewards of the soil, water and other related resources, will be celebrated locally May 19-26, according to

William Stelter, Chairman, of the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District. This year's observance, with the theme, "A Time for Initiative," underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in meeting the responsibilities of soil stewardship. The Will-South Cook Conservation District and some 3,000 companion Districts throughout the nation, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, through their

State and National Associations, are sponsoring this event for the 14th consecutive year. Through the courtesy of local banks, the Conservation District will distribute, upon request to churches of all faiths, bulletin inserts and booklets created particularly for this year's observance.

Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.; and the Rev. Lewis Newman, Southern Baptist Convention. Through the 1968 theme and in the attractively illustrated booklet, emphasis is placed upon the provocative challenges of proper use as God-given natural resources. For example, the booklet points out: "It is in the way we live our lives, rather in what we say, that we demonstrate our allegiance to God. How well we fulfill our responsibility to God will be measured, in the final analysis, by the dimensions, the adequacy, and the initiative of our service to God, His people, and His earth."

Joliet Midget Racing Season Opens May 4

May 4 is the date set for the opening of midget auto racing season at Joliet Memorial Stadium by Chuck O'Day and Leo Melcher -- the weather willing, of course.

This will be the 16th year of racing at the stadium and this, say the promoters, is world record. The Joliet Racing Association has a policy of letting children under 12 in free when they accompany their parents. Now, Melcher said, many of these former youngsters are attending the races on their own.

These races are sanctioned by the United Auto Racing Association, from whose ranks have come some of the greatest names in auto racing.

Probably the man to beat this year, it was said, will be the 1967 U.A.R.A., Roger West, of Joliet. He will be driving the hot Chevy II owned by Bob Corson, of Harvey. West has only been driving in competition for four years. He finished at the bottom of the list in 1965, popped up to sixth in 1966 and won the championship last year.

But there are quite a few more who are tough competitors too and if West repeats this year he is going to have to work hard for it. There's Bob Richards, of Lockport, for instance, who wound up in second place last year, plus Palos Park's Bill Kollman, third in 1967; George Kladis, of Chicago, who finished fourth and Paul Rademacher, of Joliet, who finished fifth. Also Wally Lambert, of Manhattan; Henry Pens, of Joliet; Newt White, Lockport; John Deering, Elgin and John "Panchito" Padilla, of Joliet, the Mexican champion -- everyone a threat. And, of course, there will be new cars and drivers.

Time trials begin at 7:15 and the first race gets off at 8:15. There is a 6-lap trophy dash for the six fastest cars in the time trials; four 8-lap heat races; a 15-lap semi-feature and a 30-lap feature race.

The materials were prepared by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, in cooperation with a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee composed of leading churchmen in the nation. The Committee consists of the Rev. E.W. Mueller, Lutheran Council in the U.S.A.; the Rt. Rev. John George Weber, National Catholic Rural Life Conference; the Rev. Harold Huff, Board of Missions, Methodist Church; the Rev. Henry A. McGanna, National Council of the

"What is your standard for living?"

Some think the best standard to live by is what "works."

But what "works" today often doesn't "work" tomorrow. Material standards are changeable and fallible.

The only standard that doesn't change is the one that can make the most difference in your life. It is God's spiritual standard of excellence.

In this free public lecture, Norman B. Holmes, C.S.B., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, cites several specific examples of individuals who have found that adherence to God's standard as presented by Jesus has vastly uplifted their lives, brought better employment, improved human relationships and health itself. Everyone is welcome.

Reporter Announces Cancer Drive Success

JAMES PEYTON
Telephone: 532-1513

I would like to thank each and every one of you who participated in the American Cancer Society Fund drive that was just completed. This was without a doubt a most profitable campaign in the two areas that I personally worked, (The Mokena Business Area and the Tinley Garden Homes) and all are to be commended for their generosity as well as their willingness to give. At a later date after all tabulations are complete I will advise you all of the net results of our contributions in this area. I shall also let you all know the results of the campaign throughout the entire township of Frankfort after all tabulations are complete.

I also would like to thank each and every one who helped make our Clean-Up day a tremendous success. This has made a tremendous difference in the appearance of our sub-division. We all want to personally thank Mr. Walter Yunker and Mr. Les Gay for their contributions to our clean-up campaign in which they have always been an extremely valuable help and have always been extremely willing to help us in any way that is within their realm. To those of you who do not know who they are the Township Highway Commissioner (Walt Yunker) and his full time helper (Les Gay) and two finer gentlemen you will not find anyplace. Once again thanks to all of the local men and boys who also helped load up the junk which only took approximately one hour and a half with this extremely helpful group.

On Saturday evening May 4th there will be a special meeting of the Tinley Gardens Homeowners Assoc. in the basement of Mr. Julius Sandy, 9307 Ethly Lane at 8:00 p.m. for the purpose of informing the people of our community of the goings on in the community that these people cannot come to our regular meeting to find out. If this sounds like goofy talk please come to this meeting and you will find out why it becomes necessary to hold a special meeting occasionally to let all in the community become informed of the affairs of their community. You do not have to be a member to come to this meeting. Come out and meet your neighbors.

Sunday, May 5, has been designated as "Family Day" at Calvary Baptist Church, 94th Avenue and 175th Street, Tinley Park, Illinois. The largest family present in the Sunday School at 10:00 a.m. will receive a beautiful picture Bible. During the morning worship hour at 11:00 a.m. every family present will be recognized.

The pastor, Rev. John R. Greene, and the entire congregation invite every family in the area without a regular church home, to come and worship with us on this special Family Day. We teach and preach the Bible.

A nursery is provided for every service and a youth church at 11:00 a.m.

This Saturday, May 4, the Calvary Baptist youth join other area Baptist churches in a monthly youth rally. Our bus will leave the church promptly at 6:00 p.m. for Dyer, Indiana. This is a special time of food-fun-fellowship for the youth. For more information call 349-0107.

New Lenox To Revise Its Liquor Ordinance

The New Lenox Village Board has several pieces of business to consider over the next several weeks. There is to be a revision of the liquor ordinance, of the zoning ordinance, and there are several annexation matters.

At the meeting last week the question was raised that the state complained the traffic lights at Cedar and U.S. 30 do not conform to standards and wants them changed.

Trustee Wilbur Thackrey pointed out that when the lights were installed some years ago the state would not put them in because there was insufficient traffic at the intersection so the village did. Since then there is enough traffic to warrant the lights, Thackrey said, so he suggested that the state do the job. A letter to the effect is to be sent to the state highway department.

A request for a permit for a Memorial Day parade was filed with the board by the Harry Anderson Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in conformance with a recently adopted ordinance requiring all parades to have permits. The permit was granted but the $5 fee was waived.

The parade will be held May 30 at 11 a.m. Village officials have been invited to take part in the observance of the day.

F. Walter Reinhard, manager of the village office, was instructed to get prices on a copying machine -- lease and purchase. The board is considering acquiring one. It would be particularly valuable in revising ordinances, it was pointed out, and duplicating records.

"Goodbye, Mr Fancy" At Providence High

"Goodbye, My Fancy," title of the third annual play to be presented by Providence High School students, will be presented at the school the next three nights, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Curtain-time is 8 o'clock.

The play, directed by Lois Loebe of New Lenox, revolves around a liberal congresswoman, played by Mary Jo Harper, who uses her wartime experiences in Europe to acquaint the public with the horrors that war generates. The play also carries a lot of laughs.

When she returns to her old college to receive an honorary degree she brings documentary film to show the students but finds herself in conflict with the trustees who find the film too harsh.

Members of the cast besides Miss Harper, are Jim Battle, as James Merrill; Doug McCowan, as Matt Cole; Chrys Murskyj as Woody; Norma Lilek, as Ellyn Griswold, Bob Moony, as Claude Griswold; Julie Furdeck, Suellen Pelz, Connie Peters, Aurora Kujawa, Kathy Koerner, Leslie Hauck, Peggy Videtich, Judy Casagrande, Jane Esposito, Terry Nelson, Bob Staab, Pat Flynn, Allen Buresz and John Flynn.

Tickets may be purchased at the door before each performance. The price is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Try Vocational-Technical Training Project

Mrs. Patricia Cote, home economics teacher at Carl Sandburg High School and Ann Brookhart, student teacher from the University of Illinois are currently participating in a study being conducted by the department of vocational and technical education of the University of Illinois supported by a grant from the Illinois state board of vocational educational education and rehabilitation.

The purpose of the study is to explore the uses of portable video tape recorders and micro-teaching techniques to improve the experiences gained by student teachers in vocational-technical education.

The study is directed by Dr. Arye Perlberg, a visiting research associate professor, at the department of vocational and technical education of the University of Illinois. Dr. Perlberg, a native Israeli, is here on leave from the Technion-Israel Institute of Technology in Haifa, Israel, where he is in charge of the teacher training department. Co-director is Dr. Robert A. Tinkham, associate professor at the university, who is the college supervisor for industrial education student teachers. Richard Nelson is the research associate for the project.

As part of the study, Mrs.

Patricia Cote participated in a special workshop at the university where she and other cooperating teachers were introduced to the use of video tape recorders and micro-teaching techniques. Student teachers were likewise instructed.

During the student teaching period, the university professor who visits the school brings a specially designed portable unit containing a video recorder which puts an audio-pictorial record on magnetic tape. It has also a small TV set or monitor, two cameras, and several microphones. At the time of his visit, the university professor records the student teacher in action without any special lights and with a minimum disturbance to the classroom. The university professor, student teacher, and cooperating teacher then view the accurate record presented on the tape and discuss the student teacher's strengths and areas that can be improved.

In reviewing the tape, the participants use micro-teaching techniques which provide a systematic approach to the analysis of instructional abilities. The focus is on special teaching skills such as the ability to ask questions, demonstrate effectively to a group or to carry on individual instruction in a shop or laboratory activity. Here the discussion becomes more specific and concrete in contrast to a more general evaluation which is appropriate for other circumstances.

This is the second semester of this state-wide project. Interim results indicate that both student teachers and cooperating teachers welcome the opportunity to see themselves in the teaching role.

In some cases, classroom activities were taped and played back to the pupils to provide a basis for a discussion of their responses and actions. This they, for the most part, found very interesting and revealing.

Key Clubs Hold State Convention

Eight representatives from Stagg High's Key Club attended the state convention of Key Clubbers in Peoria at the Pere Marquette Hotel.

Boys representing Stagg were Pat Windhorst, Rick Dohner, Len Harris, Mike Ramondi, Steve Allen, Bob Dunham, Walt Potacki and Art Andrist. James Matthews, public relations director for District 230, substituted for Key Club sponsor, science teacher Stephen Cebrynski, as the boys' chaperone.

Key Club is an organization whose main purposes is service in many worthwhile ways. The Key Clubs are an adjunct to Kiwanis.

One of the main speakers addressing the convention was Talmon Van Arsdale, president of Bradley University, whose speech was titled, "Why Try?"

Sandburg Choir At Carthage Festival

Six high school choirs from Illinois and Wisconsin participated in Carthage College's second annual Spring Choral Festival, Saturday (April 27), in the Phys-Ed Center. The festival closed with an admission-free concert at 4 p.m.

Participating choirs and their directors included: Bradford H.S. of Kenosha, Wis. (Roger Tveiten); Horlick of Racine, Wis. (John Hubbard); Brown Deer (Wis.) H.S. (Donald Ladd); Luther North of Chicago (Henry Elling); Hinsdale South of Clarendon Hills, Ill. (Paul Tyrivier); and Carl Sandburg of Orland Park, Ill. (Wayne Doverspike). They were joined by Carthage's a cappella choir for the public concert finale.

Guest director Richard Gaarder conducted the massed choir rehearsals, the private half-hour clinic sessions with some of the individual choirs, and the massed choir anthems during the concluding concert.

Gaarder, executive secretary of the Wisconsin School Music Assn. at Madison, is a former Kenosha Bradford H.S. choir director. He is in wide demand as a festival conductor and clinician.

The visiting choirs rehearsed for an hour at 10:30 a.m., Saturday in the Phys-Ed Center, and also at 1:15 p.m. During their free time the visiting choir members could schedule clinic sessions with Gaarder or Carthage choir director John Windh, take a conducted tour of the Carthage campus or attend an informal mixer sponsored by the Carthage choir.

At the concluding concert each guest choir sang two anthems alone. The combined choirs, consisting of over 400 voices, then sang four massed choir anthems under the direction of Gaarder. A Carthage brass ensemble, directed by Prof. Arthur Schoenoff, took part in one of the anthems.

File Case To Test J C Act

A friendly suit was filed in the Circuit Court today (April 19) by the State's Attorney of Kankakee County, in the name of the people of the State of Illinois, challenging the constitutionality of the Illinois Public Junior College Act. This friendly court action was initiated to open the way for bond counsel approval for financing construction of Illinois public junior colleges. Because of threatened court action in the Carl Sandburg junior college district, plans for construction of junior college facilities have stopped pending withdrawal of the dissident group's threat to sue or a favorable court decision on the legality of the Act.

James D. Broman, executive director of the Illinois Association of Community and Junior Colleges, announced last week that court action was planned to resolve the legality question so financing could move ahead for more than twenty-five community colleges over the state. Mr. Broman said, "I expect the dissident group from Galesburg to file their suit very shortly. Hopefully, both actions will be consolidated and the ruling of the circuit court sent up to the Illinois Supreme Court".

The attorney for Kankakee Community College will file his answer within one week regarding the constitutionality of the law. Broman commented further, "Because this matter is in the public interest and is extremely urgent, speedy adjudication is expected, both in the circuit court and in the supreme court. I have every reason to be optimistic on the legality questions as well as on the time it will take to get final action in the courts."

How About A Spring Tune Up?

There's no doubt about it. You're ready for spring.

But if you're like most motorists, your car isn't ready, says the Chicago Motor Club-AAA.

Remember the zero morning your car flooded? That was the day raw gasoline saturated your sparkplugs, poured over the top of your pistons and washed down the cylinder walls, taking with it a good share of the oil that normally protects the area. The result, in addition to a stalled car and a little scraping when it got started again, was diluted engine oil.

Then there was the day you got stuck in a rut and had to rock your way out. The same day you skidded into a curb. It's very possible the wheels and suspension system of your car were knocked far out of alignment.

Winter didn't end your hazards, though. There was a day when a warm thaw flooded a street corner for 50 feet and you ploughed right through it. Probably you got water and mud in your brake linings. Unless you get the dirt out, serious damage could result.

Now, don't you think you really should give your car a thorough check before you head onto the highways for a brisk breath of springtime?

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA has prepared this list of items as a reminder for motorists interested in a safe trip:

--Complete chassis lubrication and oil change.

--With the change of oil, removal of the old sludge-packed filter is a must.

--Check transmission and differential. These are among the vital organs of your car.

--Check the automatic transmission. The strain of winter driving may have caused some damage.

--Drain anti-freeze from the radiator and reverse-flush the water through the cooling system.

--Clean or replace sparkplugs. Faulty or carbon-laden plugs waste gasoline, make starting difficult and cause inefficient and costly operation.

--Check battery for recharge or replacement. Winter takes a heavy toll in batteries, with more night driving and more electrical accessories in operation.

--Check all lights and windshield wipers. For the sake of safety, these should be in perfect working order.

--Check fluid in master brake cylinder. A car shouldn't be moved an inch without reliable brakes.

--Inspect tires carefully for cuts, breaks and bruises. The safety of you and your passengers depends greatly on the condition of tires. Rotation of tires prolongs their wear.

--Check the car's under-carriage for defects when on hydraulic lift. Rain, sleet, snowdrifts, mud and water can break or bend mufflers and tailpipes and corrode or damage springs and shock absorbers.

--Since the paint and chrome on your car have been subjected to punishment from the weather, the change-over should be topped off by a wash and polish job.

Apparently certain flowering shrubs are as eager for spring as the average gardener. In fact, you may have noticed that many trees and shrubs exhibit full bloom even before leaves appear.

Magnolias, redbud, forsythia, and some flowering crabs are but a few of the eager bloomers. So often a garden is so filled with these Spring blooming shrubs that it goes into a flowery explosion for a few weeks in Spring. However, the rest of the season the shrub border may be of little interest. It's true, of course, that summer color in the garden can be handled by annuals and perennials, but how much more interesting to have some of the unusual summer - flowering shrubs in the landscape.

For sunny locations, potentilla fruticosa, also called bush cinquefoil, is one of the most attractive of the summer flowering shrubs. Because of its low height and bright yellow flowers, it's an excellent foreground plant. Its low two to three foot size also makes it useful as an informal summer hedge or in the foundation planting.

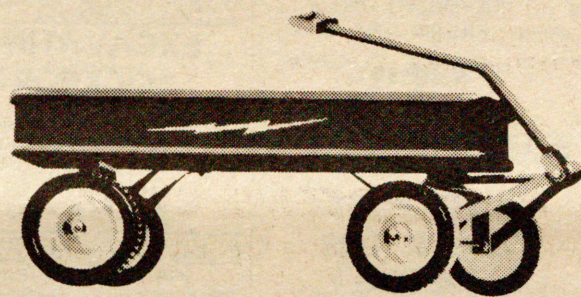

Because of custom the potentilla is not too well known. This is surprising when you consider that it is a native of North America, and has several strong points to recommend it. It has a low manageable height, it is drought resistant and it is resistant to insects and disease. In addition, the potentilla is of unquestioned hardiness in the Chicago area and it produces a generous number of yellow flowers from June to early September.

Another almost unknown summer flowering shrub for the Chicago area is bottlebrush buckeye. It differs from potentilla by being taller, somewhat coarser, and more adapted to heavy damp soils. It will also tolerate partial shade. Height of unpruned bottlebrush buckeyes can range from three to ten feet with a spread twice its height.

The flowers, which are an outstanding feature of this shrub, slightly resemble a lilac. However, the individual florets are much larger, and filament-like stamens that project from each floret give the flower cluster a feathery appearance. The flower clusters are prominently held well above the leaves, thus giving the shrub a dramatic prominence in the landscape during its August blooming season. When the shrub is in a satisfactory location, it spreads by sending out underground runners. These runners emerge from the ground to produce new plants.
